

Children's Cancer Association Names David Schaeffer as VP, Development; Mary Turina Promoted to President and COO

The Portland-based non-profit Children's Cancer Association (CCA) is proud to announce that development professional David Schaeffer has been named Vice President, Development, effective June 6, 2008.

Mr. Schaeffer recently relocated to Portland from Decatur, Georgia, where he served for the past 6 years as Development Director for Camp Twin Lakes, a facility providing year-round programs for children with serious illnesses and special needs.

Mr. Schaeffer brings to CCA 23 years experience in development for national and community-based not-for profits. He has held senior development positions at Shepherd Center rehabilitation hospital in Atlanta, the American Cancer Society in Atlanta, and the Make-A-Wish Foundation in Phoenix.

CCA is also pleased to announce the promotion of executive Mary Turina, who was named President and Chief Operating Officer. Prior to this promotion, for the past three years, Ms. Turina served as the organization's COO. She was an executive at PGE for ten years before joining CCA.

Founded in 1995, the Children's Cancer Association is dedicated to bringing the healing power of compassion, music and friendship to seriously ill children and their families when they need it most. Fueled by thousands of supporters and volunteers and available at no cost to families, CCA's award-winning, innovative programs include the in-hospital Music Rx® program, the Chemo Pal® mentor program, the LifeSupport Family Enrichment program, and the Caring Cabin® retreat home on the Oregon coast. www.ChildrensCancerAssociation.org.
